Even in the face of adversity, there are companies who pro-actively find opportunities to grow

14% of US companies with at least $50M sales improve growth & margin in downturns, while 44% decline in both¹

Success stories - Companies successfully weathered historical crisis

American Express

American Express was severely threatened in the 2008 financial crisis by rising default rates and falling consumer demand. The company pivoted on new partnerships and embraced digital technology. Its stock price has risen by >1,000% in the decade since²

Uniqlo

Uniqlo – a retail brand in Japan – grew from 5% to 30% market share in 2 years of downturn (1999–2000) while growing margins – by pivoting their business model towards the white space of consumer need created by the crisis³

The most fundamental change from this crisis is the change in consumer behavior.
Our research points to fundamental themes impacting consumer behavior

SOCIAL DISTANCING:
The new normal

~85%
Reduction in number of visits to public places compared to baseline¹

Retail & recreation

HEALTH AND HYGIENE:
Top of the mind

49%
Consumers intend to buy more vitamins, herbs and supplements in the coming times²

INCOME UNCERTAINTY:
Here and now concern

54%
Consumers expect overall household income to reduce in the next 6 months³

¹ [COVID-19 Community Mobility Report (April 17, 2020)] - The baseline is the median value, for the corresponding day of the week, during the 5-week period Jan 3–Feb 6, 2020
² Question text: “How do you expect your spend to change in the next 6 months across the following areas?” [BCG COVID-19 Consumer Sentiment Survey 30-May 03 2020 (N=1327)]
³ How do you expect your overall available household income to change in the Next 6 months as compared to before lockdown? [BCG COVID-19 Consumer Sentiment Survey 30-May 03 2020 (N=1327)]
These themes will create different types of changes in consumer behavior, some more long lasting than others.

Reversal of Past Trends
- Wild cards; likely to be temporary surges
- These are complete reversal of how consumers were behaving in the past
- These changes have mostly risen out of a constraint or fear vs convenience or choice
- These trends will likely last in line with recovery period

Acceleration of Existing Trends
- High potential permanent shifts in behavior
- Consumer behavior was already moving towards these trends
- With the pandemic, the trends have gained momentum and accelerated
- Positive reinforcement is essential for consumers to adopt them in the long term

New Habits
- Stickiness of change is yet to be determined
- Entirely new habits developed during the pandemic and while social distancing
- Consumers who gain positive reinforcement out of the habits may retain them
- Ecosystem facilitating and feeding these changes can make it last longer
11 trends of consumer behavior emerge
This will deeply impact purchase pathways in the new normal

REVERSAL OF PAST TRENDS

1. Bringing the Outside Inside

Consumers conduct online research before /during a purchase³

With more health awareness and more caution around spending, research before shopping will become more critical

Coronavirus has made people more conscious of the journey

Locally produced products may fast become a necessity for retailers and consumers concerned about products originating from countries where novel coronavirus (COVID-19) has spread

Importance of certain decision criteria will increase

Critical for brands to create a consumer pathway conducive for this 'smart shopper'

Enable frictionless digital discovery; transparent and clear info around decision making criteria

Seamless mixed pathways to allow an involved buying experience
